

Topic:

Helping Project Managers navigate the PMI® certification process

This seminar is designed for those working in the Project Management field considering certification as a means to augment their credentials in this ever growing profession. Across industries, individuals are asking themselves questions about the certification process prescribed by the Project Management Institute (PMI®) and how it applies to them and their career path. This seminar will attempt to answer the key certification questions posed by participants:

- Participants are looking at ways to move their project management career forward
- Participants are puzzled by all that they read and see about project management certifications
- Participants want to become better, more employable project managers in a constantly evolving job market

As always in her sessions, Sylvie will provide you with additional resources to draw from that will keep you adding and building on the tools to reinforce your Project Management toolbox.

Short biographical note:

Sylvie Edwards, PMP, STDC
Vice-President Training, PM ERA
Principal / Owner, SRE Solutions

Sylvie Edwards has been involved in project management in a multitude of industries for over 20 years. Sylvie previously worked for a top 5 Consulting Firm, where she was in charge of projects in the Information Technology, Banking and Securities sectors as well as a Manager in the Risk Management practice. Sylvie helped in developing methodologies for Project Management Offices as well as for Projects in Peril.

Sylvie has since 2002 instituted her own consulting and training practice, SRE Solutions, where she is able to assist in consulting and training project managers on a number of topics and projects. Sylvie works as an integral part of PM ERA as their VP of Training Solutions in creating, delivering and evaluating training programs for our diverse clientele.

She is a member of the Project Management Institute and has received her PMP® certification. Sylvie is also on the Board of Directors for PMI – Durham Highlands Chapter where she manages the PMP® Overdrive certification classes as well as the popular mentoring program. Sylvie was also President for 6 years before passing on the role.

Training, certification, change management, risk as well as knowledge management are areas that are dear to her heart and in which she spends energy and time researching and developing.

