This year, the CSCE Toronto Section is offering a panel discussion to its student and industry members who may be embarking on a job search. This can be a strenuous journey for many of us. Our panelists will provide insight into the hiring process; what to do (strategies), what not to do (pitfalls), helpful hints, what recruiters think and look for, “how to get noticed”, and from that point, “how to get hired”. The panel will be challenged with questions on resumes, cover letters, interviews and other topics. Once our moderator has gone through a series of lead-in questions, we will open the floor to questions from the audience. This will be an informative and entertaining discussion for all.

Prior to the panel discussion we will have our usual light dinner, accompanied with an ice breaker that you won’t want to miss. Following the panel discussion, attendees can participate in an informal CSCE Young Professional Networking event at O’Grady’s Tap and Grill.
